DELAWARE HELPLINE 2-1-1

www.delaware211.org

Delaware Helpline 2-1-1 is a comprehensive information and referral organization which links people in need of health and human services with appropriate service providers who can meet their needs. Delaware Helpline 2-1-1 offers information and referrals to programs that can help individuals and families with financial needs, health care needs, housing and homelessness, and so much more. Delaware Helpline 2-1-1 can be reached by dialing 2-1-1 and is available 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

With a capability to access over 3,000 government, non-profit and faith based agencies and programs, Delaware Helpline 2-1-1 can be utilized by anyone. Delaware Helpline 2-1-1 is staffed by trained specialists who quickly assess callers' needs and refer them to agencies that can help. 2-1-1 is easy to remember, toll free, statewide and confidential.

Delaware Helpline 2-1-1 is made possible by United Way of Delaware and the State of Delaware.

USER'S GUIDE

Welcome to the Directory of Human Services for Delaware 2011, the sixteenth edition of the Directory, published by the Division of State Service Centers.

The Directory offers a comprehensive listing of the many human service programs within the state of Delaware. This edition expands on previous editions and includes more agencies, phone numbers, and web sites than ever before.

The keys to using this book are the Alphabetical and Subject Indices. Each agency and program is listed in the Alphabetical Index as well as in the Subject Index under each major service provided. In the 2011 edition, only one entry for each agency is listed which includes each agency's multiple locations throughout the state, eliminating the need for separate County Sections. Each entry provides a brief description of services, all relevant office addresses, contact information, as well as all of the areas an agency serves within the state. Service locations and areas identified pertain exclusively to Delaware, even though some agencies may provide services outside the State. The format and organization of the information has been designed to be easy to read and easy to use as you work with clients and/or other agencies.

Suggestions or comments about this Directory should be forwarded to:

Directory of Human Services
Division of State Service Centers
Charles H. Debnam Building
1901 North DuPont Highway
New Castle, DE 19720

Agencies that want to update information, or new agencies that would like to be added to the next edition, can complete the Agency Addition/Revision located at the end of this Directory. Completed forms should be sent to the above address.

We trust that the Directory of Human Services for Delaware 2011 will help you in your endeavor to link services with persons in need.

SERVICE DESCRIPTION: Healthy Congregations—Health promotion and public health education on important health status and systems issues, including the distribution of informational resources, the implementation of educational workshops, and conferences for both laity and clergy. Issues covered include adult immunizations, asthma, breast cancer, cervical cancer, child safety, diabetes, family violence, heart disease and stroke, infant and childhood immunizations, prostate cancer, and substance abuse.

Faith in Action (Interfaith Volunteer Caregivers)—Volunteer assistance for individuals and families affected by chronic disease, disability, frailty, or victimization to keep many chronically ill, disabled, and elderly Delawareans independent. Services include befriending, homemaking assistance, medical transportation, referral agency, respite care, supportive listening, and telephone reassurance.

Parents Anonymous—Weekly parent mutual support group meetings led by participants who are assisted by professional facilitators. There are corresponding group programs for children. Parents Anonymous® has been cited by agencies of the federal government as an effective family strengthening and child protection program. There are four guiding principles: parent leadership, mutual support, shared leadership, and personal growth.

Interfaith Health Advocates—Lay health advisors in faith communities and related community-based organizations. They act as resource persons in their communities on issues of health, especially those pertaining to women's health. These volunteers function as community educators and advocates for healthier lifestyles.

Aging Parents®—Seminars for adult children preparing to care for aging parents. The various workshops cover topics ranging from family dynamics to financial planning to coping with stress to medical issues.

Healthy Marriage—Community education and leadership development on the skills required to form and sustain healthy marriages and strong relationships. This includes professional training for clergy and others who work with couples to prepare for marriage.

People in Focus (Covering Congregations)—Helping individuals and families to identify, access and utilize appropriate health care financing, including publicly-funded health insurance and other programs. This initiative includes public education, professional training, and individual and family consultations. Of particular importance is access and education for the community Healthcare Access Program.

Other Program Services—Advocacy for victims of family violence who disclose through faith communities. Community education and leadership development on accessibility and inclusiveness, family violence, food and nutrition, and health care.

SERVICE DESCRIPTION: The Division of Services for Aging and Adults with Physical Disabilities (DSAAPD) operates the Delaware Aging and Disability Resource Center which administers services statewide for older Delawareans, for adults with physical disabilities (aged 18 and over), and for the caregivers of these constituents. It provides assessment and case management services in order to determine an individual's eligibility for specific programs and to coordinate the delivery of services, either directly or through provider contracts. Among the specific services available are nutrition programs (including home-delivered meals), adult day care, personal care services, employment services, home modifications, and legal services including information on advance directives and power of attorney. DSAAPD also administers Medicaid-approved Waiver Programs for persons at home or in the community, including the Acquired Brain Injury Waiver, the Assisted Living Waiver and the Elderly and Disabled Waiver. In addition, the agency administers the Long Term Care Ombudsman of residents of long term care facilities (such as nursing homes), and the Adult Protective Services Program, which investigates cases of suspected abuse, neglect, or exploitation of impaired adults in the community. Among the reference material it makes available to the public, DSAAPD publishes a Guide to Services for Older Delawareans and Persons with Disabilities which is available in hard copy and on its internet site.
