

Interested in Participating in a Local Study on Air Pollution?

INDIAN RIVER POWER PLANT IMPACT STUDY

October–November 2011 & October–November 2012

During the fall of 2011 and 2012 the Delaware Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control (DNREC) and Delaware Health and Social Services (DHSS) are conducting a research study to measure air pollution in areas around the Indian River Power Plant.

What is involved?

You would be asked to participate in 4 days of air pollution monitoring in the fall of 2011 and then again in 2012. This air pollution monitoring would include wearing a small device to measure air pollution levels, keeping a time-activity diary, and allowing scientists to place monitors inside your home and in your back yard. In addition, you would be asked to have a licensed DHSS nurse collect your blood, hair, and urine samples at home.

What would I receive?

You will be paid up to $20 per day for the air pollution monitoring and an additional $30 for the samples for a total of $110 in 2011. If you participate fully again in 2012, you will receive up to $30 per day for the monitoring and $50 for the samples for a total of $170. You may receive up to $280 for fully participating in 2011 and 2012. You would also receive a copy of your results.

How can you help?

You can participate in this study if you live in one of the defined areas near the power plant. Call the number below to find out if you are eligible.

Thank you, we look forward to hearing from you!
