CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE TO CLIENTS

We want you to know why we need to collect information about you and your family, the steps we take to protect your privacy, and your rights to know what information we will keep in our records.

Please ask us for more details if you have any questions.

Why do we keep records? Delaware laws authorize the Department to collect and keep information we need to carry out our duties. This information is important for planning how to best work with you and your family.

Who else may learn this information? For the most part, only Department staff are permitted to know this information, unless you give us written permission to share it with someone else. If you are working with a team of people from different agencies within the Department, information may be shared among the team. The law requires us to share information in some other situations, such as court orders; emergencies threatening health or safety; and investigation of waste, abuse, or fraud.

Will Department staff keep this information confidential? All of our staff sign a confidentiality agreement, which clearly describes their duty to protect the privacy of all of our clients. In addition, the ethical codes of physicians, psychologists, nurses and social workers require them to keep information shared with them confidential.

Information shared with licensed physicians, psychologists and social workers cannot be subpoenaed, with the following exceptions: hospitalization proceedings; court ordered examinations; proceedings in which a guardian is sought, if the client’s condition is part of the client’s legal claim or defense; and alleged child/impaired adult abuse or neglect cases.

Where is information stored? When not in use, all written records about you are kept under lock. Some information about you may be stored on a computer system. We protect information stored in computers by “locking-out” all but the staff authorized to learn that information.

What are your rights? You have a right to find out what records we keep about you, how they will be used, and how they will be shared with others. You also have a right to review your records, except for certain confidential information and investigative files. If you object to or do not agree with the information in our records, you may ask us to change our records.

If we decide that we cannot change the records, you may give us your information in writing, and we will put it in the records.

What if you have other questions? Please ask the staff person working with you if you have any other questions. If you ask, we will give you a copy of our policy on confidentiality.
ADDENDUM

It may be necessary to speak with various agency personnel regarding your application and the records that we need in order to determine your eligibility for Division of Developmental Disabilities Services (DDDS). In addition, several other agencies sometimes have a need to know the status of your application and your eligibility for DDDS services. Below are listed those agencies with which we are in frequent contact. By checking the appropriate box you can let us know if you object to our discussing your application and eligibility for services. If approved, we will limit our exchange to information that is necessary in assisting you with services and will be kept in strictest confidence. This Authorization will remain in effect for one year from the date of signature.
